LI YUAN-HUNG TAKES PRESIDENCY; NAMES WU TING-FANG AS PREMIER

JAPAN'S NEW CABINET TO CARRY OUT OLD POLICY

Personnel Presented To The Prince Regent

KATO IN SADDLE

Latest Ministry To Be Largely "Non Party"

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 12.—The Premier today presented the personnel of the Cabinet to the Prince Regent, who expressed his approval.

While the new Cabinet is practically non-party, it is welcomed by the Seiyukai newspapers. The Seiyukai at present remains the Government party, of which the former Premier is the leader. The Cabinet is largely drawn from the membership of the House of Peers, with Seiyukai sympathy. Only the purely Seiyukai newspapers unreservedly accept the new Cabinet, the whole tendency of responsible public organs being to withhold from committing themselves by comment.

A reliable spokesman for Admiral Kato, interviewed by Reuter's representative today, said: "When the Premier speaks, he will announce his unswerving adherence to the established foreign and international policies framed, supported or fully endorsed by him at Washington and elsewhere. The position of Japan vis-a-vis China, Siberia, America and Europe undergoes no change with the change in the personnel of the Ministry. Every effort will be made by the new Premier and Cabinet so to adjust the domestic and foreign situations as to enable Japan to move forward in harmony with the best desires and interests of a world now in the course of readjustment."

The same spokesman authorised the statement of the retirement of Viscount Takahashi as a natural result of differences inside the Cabinet, the refusal of Ministers appointed by the late Premier Hara to accept the dictum of his successor, but at the same time demanding their retention because they were members of the Seiyukai Party, of which Viscount Takahashi was recently elected leader. "The Takahashi administration," the spokesman declared, "simply could not be worked, because it was a Hara body with Viscount Takahashi at its head. It is now merely shifting its responsibility, not changing its policies."

New York, Jnue 11.—A transatlantic freight war is on between lines to German, Belgian and Dutch ports and has now recently spread to British ports. A long struggle for the domination of traffic to Europe is predicted.

Full Text Of Dr. Sun's Statement To China

Canton, June 6.—The Government has authorised the issue of the following statement by President Sun Yat-sen with respect to the present political situation in China:

There appears to be dawning upon the militarists in North China a realisation that the violence which they did to the Constitution in 1917 must be repaired before there can be peace in the country and that therefore the Parliament illegally dissolved in that year must be permitted to resume its functions. This is the ground which the Constitutionalists have maintained for five years with courageous consistency against overwhelming military odds on the one hand and uninformed or prejudiced public opinion on the other. No nation, much less a democracy, can hope to carry on orderly government when its fundamental laws can be subverted and its supreme institutions repudiated at the pleasure of men who ought to be and are the servants of those laws and institutions but who, merely because they chance to be placed in positions of military power, betray that trust and seek to be the masters and dictators. The rule of force must give way to the rule of law. If the proposal to have Parliament function again means a realisation of those truths and principles, the Constitutionalists, who have been fighting for five years for these same truths and principles, feel deeply gratified. They see that those who were instrumental in dissolving Parliament and those who fought against them now admit their guilt and their error. They see that their struggles have not been in vain and that their cause has at last triumphed.

"TURN COATS," CHARGE

At the same time it behoves them to ascertain that the proposal does mean a realisation of these truths and principles and not merely an expression of the pleasure of militarists. The present advocates for the restoration of Parliament are the same type of men, indeed in some instances are the same identical men, who demanded and effected the dissolution of this same Parliament five years previously. Have these men been transformed during this interval from arrogant dictators of Parliament to respectful servants of Parliament? Or is it that they have learned nothing, that in making the present proposal they are but expressing their will and pleasure, and that they are making a Parliament now as they unmade a Parliament in 1917? If such be the case, then there is no merit in this proposal. The Roman Praetorian Guard and the Turkish Janissaries enthroned and dethroned their rulers at will; the Chinese people does not want the Tuchuns to make and unmake Parliament at their pleasure. For of what use is a Parliament which is the creature and exists by the sufferance of militarists? Indeed, what is there to prevent a Tuchuns' dissolution of Parliament on the morrow of its convocation? It is therefore obvious that Parliament can only be effectively restored if its reassembly be accompanied by two conditions.

The first condition is that of penalties. Certain men were responsible for the treasonable violation of the Constitution in 1917 and yet have escaped punishment for their crime. Can there be any respect for the laws when those who break them can do so with impunity? Their crime is now self-confessed. National self-protection alone demands that the traitors to the Constitution should be brought before the bar of justice.

MUST BE SAFEGUARDS

The second condition is that of guarantees. Parliament must be safeguarded against further dissolution and the fundmental law must be safeguarded against further violation. As militarism lies at the root of our political upheavals, its abolition must be a condition precedent to any national settlement. It is proposed that the military forces of the entire country shall be reduced to dimensions which shall represent the minimum necessary for national security. Yet a disbandment of troops, without due provision for their future would be the height of unwisdom and show a lack of practical statesmanship. It is evident that the construction of highways and railways and other industrial works is precisely the field where these able-bodied men can devote their energies, hitherto mis-spent, to productive enterprise. This Government intends that the men who have laid down their arms shall not be disbanded but shall be organised into labor corps unnder their own officers merely exchanging tools for arms on terms of a fair living wage and reasonable hours of work. Let these commanders who advocate the resumption of functions by Parliament but who have hitherto fought against the Constitutionalists demonstrate their good faith and sincerity by immediately forming one-half of their troops into labor battalions. Thereupon orders will be issued throughout all the provinces for general disarmament and for the organisation of labor corps. The peaceful unification of the country on a permanent basis will then have been accomplished.

This Government believes that these conditions are essential to the future peace and well-being of the nation. They are not difficult conditions, being dictated by plain commonsense. They are not new conditions as they have been on general lines repeatedly proclaimed since 1917. They are necessary conditions to any reconstruction of China. If those who profess respect for Parliament are really sincere in their professions, they should accept them immediately and without hesitation. The Government owes it to the nation which has suffered during the last five years that the suffering has not been in vain and that the nation shall not be called upon to go through its horrors again. Entrusted by Parliament with the duties of upholding the Constitution and putting down disorders throughout the country, I would be failing in my assigned task were I to accomplish less than the permanent unification of the country on a basis of law and order. This, with the sympathy and co-operation of patriotic fellow-citizens, I expect to be able to accomplish.

(Signed) SUN YAT-SEN.
President's Office,
Canton, June 6, 1922.

Full Text Of Dr. Sun's Statement To The Powers

Canton, June 6.—The Government has authorised the issue of the following manifesto by President Sun Yat-sen to the Foreign Powers:

Hsu Shih-chang's retirement removes the first of several obstacles to the effective restoration of Parliament as an agency of national unification. His illegal assumption of office as President of the Republic of China in 1918 gravely widened the political division which has been created by Li Yuan-hung's unconstitutional dissolution of Parliament in 1917. And his continuance in office has resulted in the utter disorganisation and collapse of government as well as in the lowering of the credit and prestige of China to an unprecedented degree.

It seems that the Treaty Powers are not wholly free from responsibility for this deplorable situation. Notwithstanding warnings and protests, they recognised and continued to recognise Hsu Shih-chang as President of China in circumstances which converted their recognition of him into what might be considered a concerted act of intervention in the internal affairs of this country. He was able, for instance, to draw upon those surplus national revenues which are collected under foreign supervision and the release of which the Great Powers claim to control. He was also in a position to contract foreign loans. Without these surpluses and loans Hsu Shih-chang might have succeeded in misruling China for four weeks but not for well-nigh four years.

As Chief Executive of the sole de facto as well as de jure governing

FIFTY DEAD IN "BOLT FROM BLUE" STORM IN NEW YORK

Tornado Suddenly Appears From Cloudless Sky

PICNICKERS DIE

Ferris Wheel In Bronx Wrecked, Five Drown

(Reuter's Service)

New York, June 12.—It is estimated that at least 50 persons were killed by a storm which was suddenly launched from a cloudless sky yesterday when the populace was seeking relief from the heat outside the city.

Fishing parties on boats were overwhelmed and many drowned.

Five were killed in an amusement park at Bronx, where the wind tore away the upper part of a ferris wheel and tossed it, with a load of merrymakers, into Long Island Sound.

CHU-SAN, CARGO AND PASSENGER SHIP, IS LAUNCHED

Distinguished Company At Shanghai D. And E. Co.'s Ceremony

The s.s. Chu-san of the Chusan Steamship Company was launched at the Shanghai Dock and Engineering Company docks at Pootung yesterday afternoon amid the usual launching festivities. Miss C. Y. Ting christened the ship before it slid into the water.

Mr. John Prentice, chairman of the dock company, proposed the success of the Chu-san and the Chusan Steamship Company and Mr. Yuan Li-tang, on behalf of Mr. Chu Pao-san, chairman of the Chu-san company, replied, and at the conclusion of his remarks proposed the health of the dock company.

Mr. Prentice then presented Miss Ting with a gold wristlet watch and a handsome bouquet of flowers as a souvenir of the occasion, and Mr. Ting I-hsien Acting Commissioner of the Statistical department of the Chinese Maritime Customs thanked Mr. Prentice in his daughter's behalf.

Mr. Prentice, during his remarks, referred to the pleasure it gave him in seeing Mr. Brodie A. Clarke present, and spoke of the long time they had been associated in shipbuilding and other circles. Mr. Clarke spoke briefly of the high esteem the Shanghai Dock and Engineering Company was held in ship building circles and expressed a desire to be present at many more launchings.

The Chu-san has been designed as a passenger and cargo steamer for service between Shanghai and Chusan. She is fitted with special ports and cargo facilities for the rapid loading and discharging of cargo and her passenger accommodation is large and well finished. She measures 205 feet long by 33 feet breadth and 20 feet moulded depth to awning deck and carries 810 tons deadweight cargo.

The Chinese accommodation is placed on the awning deck and comprises large first class saloon and state rooms for 8 first class and 40 second class passengers forward, and a large second class saloon and state rooms for 38 second class passengers aft. The engineers and compradore staff are placed amidships and the petty officers and crew in the forecastle.

On the deck above the awning deck there is also first class accommodation consisting of a large saloon forward and state rooms for 12 passengers, while the Captain and officers are placed forward of this. The machinery comprises one set of triple expansion surface condensing engines with the usual auxiliaries, the steam being generated in two cylindrical multitubular boilers.

British Court Dismisses Mrs. Cohen's Divorce Suit

Judge Peter Grain Holds Charges Of Cruelty, Non-Support And Infidelity Not Proven

Suit for divorce that was filed in the British Suprme Court by Mrs. Grace Cohen against Mr. Isaac B. Cohen, was dismissed in a decision that was handed down yesterday by Judge Peter Grain. The decision follows a trial that occupied the attention of the Court for more than a week in which Mrs. Cohen, petitioner, was represented by Mr. H. Langley-Smith and Mr. Cohen was represented by Mr. M. B. Brown.

In her petition Mrs. Cohen alleged as grounds for her application cruelty, non-support and infidelity and these charges with all of the evidence brought to support and oppose them are reviewed in detail in the decision. By the terms of the decision it was found that the evidence was wholly insufficient to support Mrs. Cohen's charges, none or which had been proved.

In the opening portion of his ruling Judge Grain considers at length questions of the legality of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cohen, which took place in the absence of an accredited rabbi, but according to Jewish rites on June 24, 1917. In this connection the Court held that the marriage was wholly legal and further hat the residence of the couple in China had been fully established.

An objection that had been raised by counsel for the defendant based on the fact that a co-respondent or co-respondents had not been named in the petition also is disposed of and overruled by the Court in the decision.

THE DECISION

Salient portions of the text of the decision are given as follows:

"It has been a difficult matter to come to a conclusion on the evidence produced before me in this case. One body of witnesses have been swearing that black is as black as can be, while another body of witnesses have been swearing that black is as white as the driven snow. There has been a very large amount of exaggeration and lack of accuracy on both sides and it has been my duty, unfortunately, to have to reduce these inexactitudes to the level of the plain truth.

"First of all as regards the cruelty:

"It is true that irritating conduct unaccompanied by actual violence but carried to such a point that the wife's health is endangered is sufficient (Mytton v. Mytton, L.R. 11 p.d. 141). But in that case there was overwhelming medical evidence that the wife's health had been most seriously endangered and in fact she became seriously ill.

REVIEWS EVIDENCE

"What are the facts that are before us in this case? And how is the evidence of the petitioning wife supported? For it is for the petitioner to make out her case.

"They were married on June 24, 1917, and Grace Cohen, the petitioner, says that a few months afterwards he began to ill-treat her, swearing at her, using bad language and picking up things and threatening to throw them at her. She states she endured this for a year and then on August 10, 1918, because she had merely asked him to take her to the gardens, he pushed her downstairs; she recovered herself, ran, he ran after, and caught her by the hair, pulled her into the room, threw a chair at her which she avoided, struck her on the arms and threatened to kill her; that she screamed for help and he put his hand over her mouth, but she got away; that she ran home, he followed, shouting that he would kill her; that there was no one else present but her husband and herself, that she ran home without her hat, and showed her bruises to her father. The story told by Cohen, the husband, is: She asked to be taken to the gardens, and he said it was too early, he would take her later, she got into a temper and said she would go by herself; he then caught her by the wrists and

LURTON IN FIRST CASE FINES MAN $5 FOR CONTEMPT

New U. S. Commissioner Shows Time Of His Court Is Not To Be Wasted

Mr. Nelson E. Lurton, newly appointed United States Commissioner, holding his first session of court yesterday morning let it be known that the time of the court is not to be wasted. This was made apparent when the defendant in the first case appeared a half hour late and was fined $5 for contempt of court.

At the conclusion of the hearing the defendant, a Filipino named Carlos Acuni, was found guility of a charge of disturbing the peace and was fined $5 on this charge. The complainant in the case, Chang Jang-sung, a shroff employed by the Eastern Garage, testified that Acuni had attacked him and had hit him in the eye when pressed to pay a garage account.

Mr. Lurton's appointment as United States Commissioner was announced on Saturday by Mr. F. J. Schuhl who has held the post for the past three years and who resigned recently. Following this announcement Mr. Lurton was sworn in by Mr. W. A. Champan and at once assumed office.

Mr. Schuhl and Mr. John B. Schoenfeld have formed a law partnership under the name of Schuhl and Schoenfeld with offices at 112 Szechuen Road.

BANDITS SEIZE LUSHAN; KIDNAP MISSIONARY

Startling Report Of Outbreak Received At Kaifeng By Governor Of Honan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Kaifeng, June 9.—The Governor of Honan has received a letter am from the missionaries at Lushan saying that bandits had looted the city and that mission property had been destroyed, also that one unnamed missionary had been taken away for ransom and that the lives of missionaries there were endangered.

They ask the Governor to send 2,000 soldiers to their help immediately, placing the responsibility for their protection upon the Governor. From Chinese sources it is reported that a Lushan hsien official has been killed.

The only mission at Lushan is the Norwegian Lutheran, of which M. Karstad is the local head. As the telegram was signed "Lushan missionaries," it is assumed that the bandits seized M. Karstad.

MARINE TRAGEDY

(China Press Service)

Wilmington, Del. June 11.—Millions of fish of all varieties are dying along the Atlantic coast and are being washed up on shore. The health officers of the country are asking the government Bureau of Fisheries to determine the cause of this marine disaster.

Many believe that the death of such great numbers of fish may be a result of recent electrical storms or submarine earthquakes.

NORTH-SOUTH UNIFICATION PLAN RIPENS AT PEKING

Dr. W. W. Yen Is Asked To Act Until Relieved

NEW ERA IS SEEN

Now Believed Southern Diplomat Will Accept

JOSEF W. HALL
Staff Correspondent the China Press

Peking, June 12.—3:20 p.m.—A mandate appointing Dr. Wu Ting-fang the Premier of the reconstructed government at Peking has been signed. Dr. W. W. Yen, whose name has been mentioned prominently as a probable nominee for the Premiership, it is announced, will serve as Acting Premier for the time being or until such time as Dr. Wu Ting-fang accepts the post and takes over its duties. It is believed confidently in official circles here that Dr. Wu Ting-fang will accept the post, thus cementing the long divided northern and southern factions under a single regime.

The foregoing, received by THE CHINA PRESS as an 'Urgent' dispatch at 12:45 o'clock this morning, is perhaps the most significant single political development that has come about at the Capital since the recent dramatic overthrow of Chang Tso-lin and the rise to a dominant place in the affairs of the nation of General Wu Pei-fu.

Peking, June 12.—Li Yuan-hung formally took the oath of office today and received the seal, which he took to his own residence in Peking.

The president, in a statement to the representatives the foreign press, declares his intention to issue mandates for the execution of his program. If these mandates are obeyed he will function until the adoption of a constitution, after which he will ask parliament to choose his successor.

Yesterday Li received telegrams from every province in the North, urging him to go to Peking. Among the telegrams was one from Chang Tso-lin, who pledged loyalty.

The determining telegram, however, was from Yi Hsiaseng, the Canton parliamentarian, who wired a statement to the effect that he and his associates interpreted Li's program to include the same things as have been advocated by Dr. Sun, and saying that if Li, after proceeding to Peking, proceeded to execute this program they (the Southerners) will come to his support.

There is intense gratification in Chinese quarters over Li's arrival at the capital. The Chinese believe that the day of their country's salvation has arrived.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 12.—A Presidential mandate, dated yesterday, was issued very early this morning, appointing Dr. W. W. Yen Premier.

Peking, June 9.—Mr. Yu Yao-fan, former Chinese Consul-General in British North Borneo has been appointed Charge d'Affaires in Norway, but pending his arrival Mr. Wang Shih-chi will be acting Charge.

Peking, June 9.—A large number of high officials yesterday attended the ceremony attending the assumption of the office of Inspector-General of Jehol, Chahar and Suiyuan by General Wang Huei-chang. The Old Mongol procedure was followed of the new incumbent taking over the seal of his office in a tent in the open surrounded by his soldiery.

Peking, June 9.—Dr. Yen returned to Peking last night. Mr. Kao Eng-hung reached Peking this morning by train from Paotingfu, having gone to Paoting by motor car yesterday afternoon.

Peking, June 9.—A group of Kirin militarists, headed by Colonel Lin Chen-to have telegraphed to the Government saying that the Kirin force is gaining ground and that the Kirin people wish General Kao Shih-ping to be appointed their Tuchun and General Meng En-yuan Inspector-General of the Three Eastern Provinces.

Peking, June 9.—The Ministry of Communications has appointed Mr. Lo Chih-chang, Vice-Minister, as Assistant Director of the Bank of Communications, and Mr. Chow Teh-shan Chairman of the Sub-Committee of the Chinese Eastern Railway Commission. With a view to immediate economy the Ministry has ordered the suspension of its advertisements in the foreign and Chinese press.

Peking, June 9.—It is authoritatively stated that the Old Parliament will come to Peking on the 11th instant and occupy Parliament House in the West City. The Parliament Guard has been reorganised by Colonel Chang, the Commandant, in readiness to resume its duties on that day. Mr. Sun Yao-ching, one of the Parliamentary Secretaries, has arrived in Peking to take over from the Anfulte Secretaries.

The Old Parliament was dissolved on June 12, 1916, and the intention is for it to resume its functions in Peking on the anniversary of that date. General Wang Huei-ching has been instructed to furnish the necessary police and military protection of the Parliament.

Peking, June 9.—The artillery of the 2nd Brigade, under the command of Colonel Liu Tsung-yin, four heavy guns and eight field pieces, started yesterday for Kiangsi, where it will join the Northern reinforcements under General Tsai Cheng-hsun. General Tsai is to leave here for Hankow, en route to Kiangsi, at 4 p.m. today.

Independent News Service

Hankow, June 9.—While Li Yuan-hung is yet skeptical as to the advisability of accepting the invitation to assume the Presidential chair at Peking, his native folks of Wuchang are exultant over the prospect of Li Yuan-hung's presidential career and are proposing to celebrate his nomination by lantern parade and street decoration in Wuchang, from which place Li Yuan-hung emerged in the 1911 Revolution as the hero of the Republic.

Chinese organisations in Wuchang are getting busy these few days planning new activities and political moves in preparation against Li Yuan-hung's ascendency in China's political arena. The Wuchang Peace Society has circularised the provinces reaffirming the necessity of Li Yuan-hung becoming President and the Old Parliamentarians being given another chance.

The Society urges the South to halt its expedition against Peking and admonishes Chang Tso-lin against creating further complications. The provinces are likewise told to frame their own provincial autonomous constitutions.

Prior to General Li's arrival here, armed police were stationed within and without the walls of Peking taking strict precautions, and at the station such a large number of civil officers and guards of honor were present that there was not even standing room.

At 11:05 a.m., the special train with General Li aboard arrived and amidst the music of several military bands, General Li, under the escort of the guards of honor, proceeded by motor-car to his residence at Peking.

Mr. Kao En-hung, Minister of Communications, who has been on a visit to Tientsin, also returned here by the same special train.

General Li Yuan-hung yesterday issued a circular telegram from Tientsin, stating to the effect that in compliance with requests from various quarters he had concluded to enter Peking and exercise the functions of the President for the time being. The question as to whether or not it was proper that he should resume the Presidency was to be subjected to the decision of the Parliament.

Dr. W. W. Yen is reported by the Chinese press as having taken sides with Tuchun Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang in opposing the assumption of the Presidency by Li Yuan-hung.

The Shanghai Journal of Commerce, another Chinese newspaper, says that over thirty Shanghai organisations, including the Amalgamated Association of Street Unions and the Chinese Students Association have sent wires to Peking protesting the appointment of Li.

(Dah Tong News Agency)

Hongkong, June 10.—It is reported that the Southern troops have decided to use all their forces in capturing western Kiangsi in order to capture Luenhua and Pinghsiang. Here they will unite with the Hunanese troops and attack Nanchang.

General Tsao Cheng-hsun, the Northern commander has telegraphed to the Kiangsi troops ordering them to retreat to Nanchang and draw the Southern troops towards them.

When the southern troops have arrived at Wukow, the Navy will co-operate with the Chihli army and take the offensive. The aim of Tsai, according to this supposedly secret telegram, is to defeat the southern troops in a big battle and recapture Kiangsi.

The telegram was unnecessary as the Kiangsi forces were being driven back by the Southern forces, the only question being whether they can recover to get a breathing spell at Nanchang.

Chen Kwang-yuen, Tuchun of Kiangsi, has resigned, according to accounts appearing in the Chinese press, as a result of the Northern expedition of Dr. Sun Yat-sen. Pending the arrival of Tsai Sang-hsung, the general sent to the relief of Kiangsi the former Tuchun appointed Wu Ching-pin. Defense Commissioner of Kinkiang, to act as Tuchun. The Sin Wan Pao reports that Chen has already fled to Tientsin.

(Kwo Wen News Agency)

Canton, June 9.—Official news has been received by the Presidential Office that General Wang Ta-wei has captured 300 rifles from the Kiangsi troops at Sung-yu, 700 more were taken at Nanhang. On the left wing, to the north of Sinfeng, which is now in the hands of the Southern troops, 4,000 more rifles have been captured.

The Yunnanese and Kiangsi forces supporting the south have taken more than 2,000. In all more than 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition, 36 cannon, 47 machine-guns have been taken.

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, June 11.—General Tsai Cheng-hsun, Commander-in-Chief of the Chihli reinforcements to Kiangsi, arrived here this evening, and is expected to proceed to Kuliang forthwith without making a stay here. Rumors are heard that General Tsai will be appointed Tuchun of Kiangsi in place of General Chen Kuang-yuan.

Canton, June 11.—General Li Lieh-chun left Nanan for Kanchow on June 8. One mixed brigade of Hunan troops under the command of Chen Chia-yu is reported to have started from Chaling on June 8 and is now invading the western part of Kiangsi.

Some places in Kiangsi such as Nanan, Hainfeng, Chungyi, Haincheng, and Nankang, which have now fallen in the hands of the Southern forces, have undergone severe looting at the hands of the Northern troops in their retreat. Peace and order in these districts it is understood, will be maintained by what is called a Union.

Peking, June 10.—Opposition to Tung Kang's sweeping cuts in the Ministry is lessening. The general situation is so bad and so many of the employes have been forced to go without payment of their salaries so long that discharge is not much of a disaster after all. The apparent sincerity of the Minister's action and the seriousness of the situation has won supporters.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 8.—It is stated that the 13th Division, under command of General Wang Huei-ching, will be despatched shortly to Jehol to co-operate with the Yichun there. The artillery of the Division is now on its way.

General Wang is expected to precede his division to Jehol in order presonally to investigate the situation there. General Wang formally assumed his office as Inspector-General of Chahar, Jehol and Suiyuan this morning.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 8.—Details of the defeat suffered by General Kao Shih-pin's troops in the Chinese Eastern Railway zone have now reached Peking. It appears that they were attacked by a Fengtien force on June 3 at Shinho, west of Hailin, and defeated, retiring eastward to Ninguta and north to the mountains. By five o'clock in the afternoon, Hailin was entirely in the hands of the Fengtien troops who captured a quantity of rolling stock as well.

On the following day, General Chang Tso-lin's column proceeded eastward and occupied Yeho, midway between Hailin and Mulinchan. On July 5 they continued their advance, cleared the line of their enemies between Yeho and Mulingchan and went on to Pogranitchnaya whence General Kao Shih-ping himself retreated to Grodekovo on the same day.

The vanguard of the Fengtien force having reached Pogranitchnaya at eleven o'clock on June 6, the Commander of the troops guarding the railway notified the consular body at Harbin that railway communication had been reestablished between Harbin and Pogranitchaya.

Peking, June 8.—There is reason to believe that the Peking-Mukden Railway Administration will be able, within the next few days, to send one train daily each way between Tientsin and Peitaiho and Chinwangtao.

Peking, June 8.—Dr. C. C. Wang, President of the Chinese Eastern Railway, has notified the Ministry of Communications that the annual meeting of the railway, previously postponed to May 8, has now been further postponed owing to the disturbance of communications between Peking and Mukden.

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, June 11.—The announcement yesterday evening that General Li Yuan-hung would leave for Peking today was received sceptically in official circles at first but when it was confirmed it occasioned surprise and real gratification. His arrival in Peking this morning was marked by an enthusiastic reception. Many thousands turned out to welcome him. While at the railway station all the Members of the Cabinet, the Vice-Ministers, large numbers of former officials, the Commandants of the Peking Garrison, the Peking Gendarmerie and the Metropolitan Police, leading military and naval officers and many other distinguished personages awaited him. The Presidential Guard was drawn up on the station and the streets from the Chien Men to the Tung Chang Hutung were lined with troops, gendarmerie and police.

Mr. Chow Tsze-chi, who left for Tientsin yesterday evening, returned with General Li, who was also accompanied by Mr. Chi Yao-shan and General Wang Chang-yuan.

Following his welcome at the station General Li Yuan-hung proceeded to his residence and thence to the Palace where he had a conference with thirty members of the Cabinet, and other officials.

Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu are expected at Peking this evening or tomorrow.

Mandates will be issued shortly, announcing General Li's resumption of the Presidency and summoning the various leaders to Peking.

Peking, June 10 (Delayed).—General Li Hou-chi, whose recent journey to Amoy aroused considerable curiosity, is understood to have taken over the command of the 2nd Fukien Division there, appointing the former commander, General Tsang Chi-ping, as general military counsellor to the Tuchun's office at Foochow.

From Shanhaikuan three parallel Chihli columns are advancing to the Great Wall in close touch with the retreating Fengtien forces. General Sun Lieh-chun has transferred his base from Shanhaikuan to Suichung-hsien. The good offices of two foreigners who left Mukden for the purpose of mediating between the two armies are understood to have contributed largely to the present armistice.

The Government has approved the proposal of the Civil Governor of Kiangsu to appoint a Conversancy Commission for the Upper and Lower Yangtsze. It is understood that other provinces concerned will be invited to participate.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered phaminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Cochin-China To Ask Banque Inquiry

(Reuter Special Service)

Paris, June 11.—M. Outrey, Deputy for Cochin-China, has announced his intention of interpellating the Government with regard to the delay, first, in submitting for ratification by Parliament, in conformity with the vote of the two Chambers, the agreements and conventions necessary to safeguard the material and moral interests of France in the Far East, which have been gravely compromised by the cessation of operations on the part of the Banque Industrielle de Chine and, secondly, in introducing to the Chamber of Deputies a bill submitting to Parliament a new convention with the Banque de L'Indo-Chine, which should have been introduced since January, 1920.

The Senate has appointed a Commission charged to examine the demand for the authorisation of proceedings against Senator Perchot regarding the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

Russ Exiles In Paris Cheerful

(Reuter Special Service)

London, June 11.—The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette states that exiles from Russia are cheerful regarding the prospects of Russia. They anticipate a sudden end of the Bolshevist regime and declare that they have received news of many Red leaders, who have earned the title of "butchers," already taking refuge in China, fearing for their lives when the crash occurs.

INDIANS PROTEST

(Reuter's Service)

Lucknow, June 11.—A big Khilafat meeting presided over by the Pundit Motilal Nihru, former President of the Congress, who was released from jail on June 6, protested against Mr. Austen Chamberlain's recent statement in the House of Commons with regard to the alleged Turkish atrocities as based on "Britain's anti-Islamic policy."

It declared that the proposed inquiry would not satisfy India unless the Commission included representatives of the Indian Khilafat Committee and the Moslen Indpendent States, and also demanded the publication of the International Commission's report with regard to "the Greek atrocities in Smyrna."

PORT LOAN

(Reuter's Service)

Karachi, June 11.—The Karachi Port Trust propose to raise a loan of fifty lakhs in England at 6 percent.

SOUTH AFRICAN ARRESTS

(Reuter's Service)

Pretoria, June 11.—Five prominent Nationalist leaders have been arrested on a charge of high treason. They include the Secretary of the Transvaal Nationalist Party, the Editor of the newspaper, Ons Vaderland, and General Pienaar.

American Children Will Give Program On Fourth Of July

In connection with the arrangements being made to give to American children a large part in the coming observance of the Fourth of July a special program is being drawn up and will be given by a number of American children at the lawn party that will follow the baseball game on the afternoon of the Fourth.

The direction of this program will be in the hands of Miss Bernice Austin of the Music Department of the American School who so capably directed the recent operetta that was given by pupils of the American School for the purpose of arranging the program for the Fourth all American children who will be in Shanghai over the holiday are asked to meet with Miss Austin at 178 North Szechuen Road at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Charge Garage Man Purchased Municipal "Gas"

Mr. Johnson Chao, the owner of the Johnson Garage on Wu chang Road, was charged with the purchase of gasoline belonging to the Municipal Electricity Department before British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Tsang in the Mixed Court yesterday morning.

Druing the process of the case Detective Sergeant Conduit, prosecution on behalf of the police and Mr. Musso, attorney defending the garage owner, clashed several times. A Chinese policeman, an employe of the Electricity department, and a wheelbarrow coolie gave evidence.

Mr. Musso asserted that his client had purchased a lot of six drums of gasoline from a man who represented himself as a shroff at 70 cents a gallon. When the supposed shroff turned up with a second lot the garage man alleged he refused to take delivery because no receipt had been given him and he feared a game of some kind. The case was adjourned for further hearing, the garage man being bailed on $1,000 security.

British Court Dismisses Mrs. Cohen's Divorce Suit

tried to stop her but she got away and ran out and ran to her father.

"That he had got his hand on the chair at the time and was angry and said 'It was hard lines to have such a bad tempered wife.' He says that his married sister, Sara Nathan was there at the time.

"Mrs. Nathan was called as a witness, and stated that she was present on the occasion. I was much impressed with the evidence of Mrs. Nathan, although she was a sister of Cohen, the husband: she appeared to me to be a woman who was anxious to speak merely to the facts she knew of, and appeared to have no bias, in fact more or less indifferent as regards the two parties in this suit. She was evidently not a very highly educated woman, but a woman of some common sense. Her evidence is that Mrs. Grace Cohen said she would go to the gardens and that Cohen said it was too early and that if she wanted to go then he would not go at all. She got angry, lost her temper, cried, and then went to go out, but Cohen caught her by the hands and took her into the dining room. She sat in a chair and then she ran out of the house. Mrs. Nathan said she ran to call her back, but she would not listen and ran off to her father's home. Mrs. Nathan says she did not see anything thrown and if it had been she would have seen it.

"The matter was brought before two Elders, S. J. Solomon and S. B. H. Cohen, and they say it did not appear to them a serious matter; she complained of her husband pulling her about and bruising her wrists, but made no serious charge against him as far as they could remember: that she appeared to think he was not treating her as she expected to be treated. In any event a reconciliation was arrived at by August 31. 1918, and they again lived together until December 26, 1921.

"There closes this incident; here we have the petitioner's story entirely uncorroborated, save for her father saying that 'her arms were pinched blue and purple' but he said, 'there was nothing to go to a doctor about as there was nothing internal, only outward bruises' and that she told him, her father, of the treatment she had received. E. A. Solomon, the father, says he did not remonstrate with the husband Cohen about it. And gives as his reason that he was an old man and could do nothing. I will deal with the law or rule of corroboration presently.

ANOTHER INCIDENT

"The next incident is the birth of her first born: this took place in July, 1919. Mrs. Cohen, the petitioner, alleges that her husband refused to allow her a doctor for the confinement and that a Dr. Ricou had said she should go into a maternity home, but her husband had refused to allow her to do so, that she only had a useless and aged old woman as a midwife who was 80 years of age; that in consequence she suffered great pain and agony and her life was seriously imperilled, and that in consequence of her husband's neglect the child died a few hours after birth and the petitioner's life remained in grave danger. She calls her father to support this statement and E. A. Solomon says that he spoke to Cohen and said he must call in a doctor and that Cohen had said he had already telephoned for Dr. Ricou who had been attending her before and that he would not come because she had not gone into a maternity home, and he (Cohen) would not have another doctor. And that if Solomon fetched a Doctor he would not allow him to come in. But Solomon says, nevertheless, he went and fetched Dr. Patrick himself.

"And we find that when Dr. Patrick came Cohen made no objection whatever, but according to his evidence, supported by a Mrs. Nissim, he rang up and put off Dr. Bolton who had been telephoned for in the interval. Solomon admits that after he had left he did hear that Cohen had telephoned to another doctor. That is as far as the corroboration of Mr. Cohen's story goes. A Mrs. Rachel Solomon is called by the petitioner to support her story but although she is a relation of Mr Cohen's family she by no means does so. Mrs. Rachel says 'I had no question about a doctor being called. There was no doctor there, I was there all the time,' but she herself came to the conclusion that a doctor ought to be called and told Solomon, the father, to go and get Dr. Patrick. Solomon hesitated and said 'there would be a row if he did,' but Mrs. Rachel insisted (and she appeared to me to be a lady who was accustomed to have her own way) and in the end Solomon went and fetched Dr. Patrick.

"Can it be said on that evidence by itself, which is the evidence called by the petitioner that she has proved her case? Dr. Patrick is called, not by the husband but by the wife, the petitioner. He says 'I should not necessarily have ordered a maternity home, but it is easier to deal with a case there.' There was nothing to cause me to think that she should have been necessarily taken to a home. It was an ordinary confinement—no complications, no signs of neglect having taken place before the birth.'

OTHER EVIDENCE

"A Mrs. Luzzana also states she heard Cohen telephoning for Dr. Ricou and Dr. Jackson. As regards this incident, Mrs. Cohen, the petitioner, is not only not corroborated, but the evidence of her own witness, Dr. Patrick, throws considerable doubt upon her story, and further it is denied by the respondent who is supported by evidence, which the petitioner has failed to show is in any way unreliable.

"With regard to the question of being kept without food during the months of September, October and November, 1921, this again is depended on the petitioner's evidence, supported by the fact that there is no doubt she did receive food from her father's house. It may be perfectly true that her husband did only give her $1 a week for food. But his answer is, that, his salary was only Tls. 110 a month and that there was always food for her at his sister's, Mrs. Nathan's, where it appears the various members of the Cohen family pooled their resources and all had meals together, Mrs. Nathan and Cohen's mother doing the cooking and marketing. Mrs. Grace Cohen, the petitioner, states that in consequence of lack of food her health was seriously affected. She calls Dr. Massey to corroborate her statement but he by no means does so. He says he was attending her child, i.e. the second child from April to October or November 1921. 'It was well nourished, in fact too well nourished,' he says, and he told the petitioner 'She ought to give up nursing it and give it outside food.' But she would not do so.

"A Mr. Myer Moses Cohen is called who is no relation to any of the parties and states that he used to have his meals at Mrs. Nathan's, as he was a friend of Nathan's. He frequently saw the petitioner there during October and November at tiffin; that he used before to go to the Cohen house for food but not in September, October and November, 1920. The Cohens always seemed to be on friendly terms. 'I did not know there was any disagreement between them.'

"Solomon Ezekiel says he was at the Nathan's for meals nearly every night in September, October and November. Mrs. Cohen, the petitioner used to be there, 'I know because I used to sit next her.' Sometimes when she was not there food was sent to her, but she was frequently at the Nathan's for food, and he states he was at a party at Cohen's house in November and he says there was plenty of food.

CHARGES OF INFIDELITY

"I will now deal with the allegations of adultery.

"As Lopes L. J. states in Allen v. Allen, (1894) L.R. C.A. 252. 'To lay down any general rule; to attempt to define what circumstances would be sufficient and what insufficient upon which to infer the fact of adultery is impossible.' Each case must depend upon its own particular circumstances. Of course it is not necessary to prove a fact of adultery; the very act, its time and place, as there is not one case in a hundred in which that proof would be attainable. But, as Lopes L.J. states later in the same case, that judgment must be exercised with caution in finding that adultery is proved on circumstantial evidence' and we must hesitate to find adultery if the circumstances are capable of any other reasonable solution.

"The first charge is that at North Szechuen Road, and the evidence is the uncorroborated statement of the petitioner, her statement being, that a coolie came to her house with some chits for payment. 'They were headed 'North Szechuen Road,' one was signed 'Mary,' was an I.O.U. for $50, the others were for $5, $10, $15 and were for refreshments, and they were all initialled 'I.P.C.,' which she recognised as her husband's initialling. She obtained them from the coolie, read them, and gave them back to him. She never challenged her husband with these facts, nor ever mentioned it to him or asked for any explanations.

"It appears to me incredible that a wife having in her possession that which she considers written proof of her husband's adultery allows those proofs to leave her possession and does not retain them for the time being, in spite of her promise to return them, for the purpose of taxing her husband with what she believed was his unchastity.

"The next charge is made by Solomon, the petitioner's father, who states that he saw Cohen go into a brothel No. 53 Kiangse Road on March 8, 1921.

"But Sub-Inspector Moore of the Municipal Police is called and says it is not a brothel: 'That a summons was taken out against it in July, 1920, for not having a licence but it was withdrawn on an undertaking that premises should not be used as a brothel: It has not been used as a brothel and no further proceedings have been taken against the house.'

"The third charge is again an uncorroborated story of the petitioner who alleges that one night, at 7:30, she followed her husband and saw him from the end of an alley go into a house, No. 1 Tiendong Road; Sub-Inspector Moore says that this house is licensed as a brothel. That it is not impossible that music and refreshment would be the occupation of an individual visiting the house and that it is possible and may be probable that gambling goes on there.

"The husband denies that he has ever been into either of the houses, and challenges the petitioner to bring forward any woman from either of the houses who has ever seen him inside either of the houses.

"As the Judge states in Singer v. Singer 'It is a serious responsibility to undertake to separate man and wife on the unsupported testimony of one witness.'

"Moreover the statements made before the Jewish Elders, J. E. Solomon, Rabbi Hirsch, and David E. J. Abraham are worthy of some notice.

"Both parties signed the statement to abide by the decision of the Elders. There was one discussion of the matter but the petitioner refused to go to another meeting, they both stated their cases.

"The petitioner made no charge of adultery against her husband, she did say that he went to places she did not like, but did not suggest that he went to brothels.

DISMISSES PETITION

"The Elders did not come to any definite conclusion because the petitioner refused to come before them any more. But they did say that they thought the differences were merely temperamental. I have now dealt with some of the main features of the wife's charges against her husband.

"The main part of the charges against her husband are based entirely on her uncorroborated evidence, which under some circumstances, Riches v. Riches 35, L.T.R. 141. I am enabled to act upon. But in Riches v. Riches the judge acted upon uncorroborated evidence of the petitioner, because there were no circumstances which made him suspect the petitioner's evidence. This case is quite the reverse because directly the petitioner calls outside evidence to support her statement, grave suspicion is at once thrown upon the accuracy of her statements, namely, the evidence of Dr. Patrick and Dr. Massie. And further a considerable quantity of evidence has been called by the respondent which directly contradicts the petitioner's statement.

"I admit that a somewhat appalling situation is arrived at in the dismissal of this petition. This woman by law is still bound to remain the wife of a man against whom she has levelled in public most hideous charges. On the other hand I must compel the woman to prove the charges which she brings against the man. Because if I decide in her favor I send forth the man into the world one of the most vile, despicable and contemptible of creatures.

"I have come to the conclusion that the petitioner has not proved her case, and that the evidence before me is wholly insufficient for me to grant the Decree asked for and therefore I find that neither the cruelty nor the adultery has been proved and consequently the petition must be dismissed."

Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets.

"Chamberlain's Tablets have been used by my husband and myself off and on for the past five years. When my husband goes away from home he always takes a bottle of them along with him. Whenever we have that heavy feeling after eating, or feel dull and played out take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets and they fix me up," writes Mrs. Newton Vreels, Minoa, N. Y. Take these tablets when troubled with constipation, indigestion and they will do you good.

Bomb Is Exploded In Chinese Theater

In the course of a performance by Mei Lang-foong, who is one of the most noted Chinese actors, at the Kiukiang Road theater a bomb exploded shortly before midnight Sunday night injuring a private ricsha boy. The explosion is thought to be the outcome of threats made in a number of begging letters recently received by Mei Lang-foong and the theater management.

The bomb had been placed under an upper tier seat but it was so small that it did but slight damage and the play was interrupted for only a brief period. The injuries of the coolie were pronounced to be slight.

ELECTRICAL APPARATUS FOR EVERY PURPOSE

This trade mark is the guarantee of dependable electrical equipment.

Doing the World's Work

Though the source of power may be miles from the work to be done, the electric motor makes possible its direct application to the task.

Westinghouse Motors do this economically and well, for they are designed to fit exactly their particular task and are built to meet the highest standards of quality and service.

Thus Westinghouse Motors are to be found in thousands of different applications.

They operate power machines in the workshop;
They drive the most powerful locomotives;
They drive the propellers of merchant vessels and warships;
They turn the wheels of thousands of street cars;

They operate lathes, presses, shears, tools, printing presses, elevators, and thousands of other machines—doing their work so well that progressive concerns have cast aside millions of dollars' worth of former equipment in order to install them.

They grind coffee for the grocer, chop meat for the butcher, sweep, wash, iron and sew for the housewife.

When the motor bears the Westinghouse Electric trade mark satisfactory service is guaranteed.

body in this country that is fully constituted at this moment, I have the honor to remind the Treaty Powers of their repeated pledge of non-interference in our present internal struggles and to request them to observe the same in the spirit as well as in the letter. In reality, these struggles are a memorable effort at national readjustment. As in the case of every people in history who have had to change in order to live, we are now engaged in the work of readjusting the old life of China to an environment greatly changed in its political and economic aspects. If this readjustment is to be real, it must be effected by Chinese without interference by the Great Powers. A fresh recognition by the latter of some new puppet Peking President would be such an act of interference and would lead, if that were possible, to a more calamitous cycle of events than that originated by the international recognition of Hsu Shih-chang.

Sea-Sickness Can be Prevented!

No Drugging—No Unpleasant After-Effects.

An appreciative doctor wrote:—

"Lady——was placed under my care for the voyage Home. I could not accept any responsibility as I considered she was in great danger from haemorrhage should she vomit. She had always been a very bad sailor. As a precaution she was given two capsules of 'KIRBY'S SEA-SICK CURE' immediately she went on board. We got into rough water shortly before midnight, but Lady——had an undisturbed night's rest. She took one capsule half-an-hour before dressing. She had breakfast in the dining hall, and assured me she had no sensation of nausea or sickness. Although we had rough weather for five days, and at other periods of the voyage, she was not sea-sick. There was no nausea of any kind, and the remedy produced no after-effects."

BIG BASEBALL SCHEDULE IS PLANNED; GAMES ON FOR EVERY DAY THIS WEEK

37th And 38th Divisions To Play Again This Afternoon

Baseball is planned for every day this week. With the 37th and the 38th divisions of the Destroyer fleet already in port and on the field, and the flagship Huron and the Mother Ship Buffalo due today, the local management has been able to arrange for a week's schedule.

The 37th and the 38th play again this afternoon. The former nine has one win over the 38th in Shanghai, when in their only game here a few days ago, the rain and the wet ball caused the 38th men to throw a tied game away. Shanghai meets the 38th again tomorrow for the second time this spring. They lost to the same nine on Saturday, through inability to bunch hits behind Kingman's excellent twirling.

They expect however to turn the tables tomorrow. The 38th and the 37th meet again on Thursday.

The flagship Huron enters the local tournament on Friday with a game against the local nine. They play again on Saturday against the Cruiser Buffalo in the first half of a double header, while Shanghai meets the 37th division in the second game.

There will be two more games for Sunday afternoon. The Huron and the 37th division play the first half of the program, while Shanghai meets the 38th in the second game.

It is expected that an everyday program will be arranged for next week.

Shanghai beat the 37th Division Sunday afternoon by the narrow score of 4-3. The score follows:

PRINCE OF WALES IN POLO GAME AT CAIRO SCORES TWO

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, June 10.—A large and fashionable gathering assembled at the Gezira Sporting Club this afternoon to witness a polo match between Seifullah Pasha Yusry's Team and the 9th Lancers. The Prince of Wales played No. 1 for the former team. His Royal Highness rode hard, hit well and altogether played an excellent game, scoring twice.

Seifullah Pasha's team won by 5 to 2. Prince Djimil Tussun on behalf of King Fuad presented cups to the winning team. The Prince of Wales received a tremendous ovation when he was presented with a handsome gold cup.

After the game the Prince, accompanied by Viscount Allenby, Prince Djimil, the Premier and other Ministers, took tea in the Club House, surrounded by an admiring throng. Altogether this afternoon was a memorable one for Gezira.

Britons in Cairo consider themselves most fortunate in having an opportunity of seeing the popular Prince, and gave him a magnificent welcome in their beautiful Sporting Club, in which large numbers of persons of other European nations took an enthusiastic part.

Cairo, June 10.—The Prince of Wales concluded a very busy day by attending a military boxing tournament in his honor at Kasreinil Barracks accompanied by Viscount Allenby and high military officers. A solid phalanx of khaki met the eye as one entered the barrack square.

The Prince's arrival was heralded by a great burst of cheering. His Royal Highness presented the prizes to the victors after a short speech in which he said how pleased he was to visit the troops in Egypt and how gratified he was with the reception accorded him.

General Sir Walter Congreve led the final three cheers for the Prince which were given with such enthusiasm that it must have carried far beyond the barrack square.

The Prince of Wales's energy astonished the people here. After a hot and tiring journey from Suez yesterday evening, His Royal Highness was early astir this morning and was at the Gezira Sporting Club at 7 o'clock trying polo ponies. After exchanging visits with the King of Egypt, the Prince visited the famous bazaars of the Mousky.

Cairo, June 11.—The Prince of Wales went riding early this morning and afterwards attended to his private affairs. The King gave a brilliant luncheon in honor of His Royal Highness at Addin Palace, at which were a large number of distinguished personages, including the Ministers.

Decorations were worn and King Fuad decorated the Prince with the collar of the Order of Mohamed Ali, the highest Egyptian honor (which the Prince of Wales is the first to receive) and intended only for crowned heads.

His Royal Highness played tennis at Gezira this afternoon and will dine quietly with Viscount and Viscountess Allenby. The Prince leaves at 9:30 tonight for Port Said and will board the Renown immediately on arrival there. The Renown departs at 7:45 on Monday morning.

FUKUDA TAKES TITLE IN MEN'S OPEN SINGLES

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 5.—In the presence of a large number of spectators, which included Their Imperial Highnesses Prince Kuni, Prince Asaka, and Prince Kayo, the challenge round of the Men's Singles Open Tennis Championship was played between the challenger, Mr. M. Fukuda of the Popular Club and Mr. S. Nomura, of the Tokio Lawn Tennis Club, the present holder of the Championship.

The game resulted in a runaway victory for Mr. Fukuda who defeated the holder in three straight sets, the final score being 6-0, 6-3, 6-0.

At the conclusion of the match, H. E. Madame de Bassompierrs presented the Championship Cup for the singles to Mr. Fukuda and for the Men's doubles to Messrs. Fukuda and Ogino.

TAKES SINGLES TITLE

Tokio, June 3.—In the final round of the Tennis singles championship of Japan, Fukuda defeated Kijima in an uneventful match, 6-4, 8-6, 2-6, 6-3.

ALSO WINS IN DOUBLES

Tokio, June 4.—Fukuda and Ogino today defeated Fukaya and Oji, 6-4, 8-6, 2-6, 6-3, thus winning the doubles championship of Japan, as Flack and Andrews were not there to defend their title.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.

BANKERS URGE TRANSFER OF GERMAN DEBT

Would Help World If Converted To Private Investors

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 12.—The International Bankers' Committee, in the course of a report on its conclusions, states that it is convinced that if the conditions for Germany's reconstruction were realised large loans could be floated on the principal world markets. The financial conditions for this were never more favorable since the war.

The Committee dwells on the immense help to the economic revival of the world if Germany's debt to the Allies could gradually be converted into one to private investors. It believes that the resumption of normal exchange negotiations and the stabilisation of exchange are impossible unless a reparations solution is found and proceeds to urge the danger of the collapse of German credit if the situation is not relieved.

These conclusions are signed by all the members except M. Sergent (France), who has issued a statement to the effect that he is unable to contemplate any diminution of France's rights under the Treaty of Versailles.

(China Press Service)

Paris, June 11.—The committee of bankers which has been sitting to discuss the question of a large international loan to Germany advised the Commission on Reparations that although a large international loan cannot be recommended at the present time because of the unwillingness of certain prospective parties to the loan, the subject can be taken up later.

Meanwhile a relatively small loan might be arranged to prevent the total financial collapse of Germany.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris June 11.—The Bankers Committee's report lays down the following conditions for the loan to Germany:

Germany must clearly show a desire to fulfil her obligations. The present uncertainty with regard to reparations obligations must disappear and must be replaced by essential certainty.

The establishment of Germany's credit must be followed by adjustment of Allied finances. The question of inter-Allied debts should be discussed for the adjustment of Reparations obligations because they are a factor in the general agreement between the Allies which is one of the essential conditions for a loan to Germany.

Britain Selling Coal To Germany

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 12.—German mineowners are complaining of the large quantities of British coal which are being imported into Germany. The export last week from Scottish ports was unprecedentedly large, the orders being mostly from Gasworks and State railways, but industrialists are buying in considerable quantities. It is reported that British coal is selling in Hamburg more cheaply than Upper Silesian coal.

A COMMON COMPLAINT OF CHILDHOOD

Many children in this country are troubled with worms, some of the indications of which are irregular appetite, bad breath, grinding of the teeth in sleep; pain and swelling of the abdomen, irritation in the nose. Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, given for a few days destroy worms, and a marked improvement in appetite and general health speedily follows.

Mrs. A. Sauvie, of Rowantan, Quebec, writes: "My boy was badly troubled with worms and was feverish and restless. I got a vial of Baby's Own Tablets and since giving them to him all signs of the worms have disappeared and he is now in good health. I think Baby's Own Tablets have no equal as a medicine for this trouble."

Guaranteed free from opiates and absolutely harmless even to the youngest infant, Baby's Own Tablets are a remedy for indigestion, constipation, simple fever, diarrhoea and teething troubles. They are obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial post free from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Ulsterites Out To "Kill Off Enemies"

(China Press Service)

Belfast June 11.—A circular issued to Ulster Special Constables dealing with the possibility of open hostilities says:

"The aim and duty of the constabulary is the killing or capture of the enemy. It is only by finally overcoming or evicting him from six counties that peace can be restored."

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 11.—Interviewed at Dublin today Mr. Collins said that, while he would strain every nerve to avoid a clash between British and Irish troops on the Northeastern border, it did not follow that his Government had not a very definite policy to enforce as a last resource against the demoniacal barbarism, which aimed at the extermination of their people in the six counties.

London, June 10.—Four business premises were destroyed by incendiary fires at Belfast today.

French Hold Cat In German Debt Means Less To U. S.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 12.—The authoritativeness of the views usually voiced in the Temps adds interest to the contention in last night's issue to the effect that the reduction of the German debt inevitably implies the reduction of the debt to the United States. The suggestion is made that the Reparations Commission should appoint an International Committee of inquiry of Allies and neutrals to visit Germany and thoroughly probe the extent of German resources.

London, June 12.—The Bankers' Commission's report is held to throw back the whole question of reparations upon a general settlement of the international war indebtedness of Europe. The disposition of the English papers is to educate the public in the idea that Britain should wipe off the debts owing to her quite apart from British liability to the United States. Indeed, it is insisted that British prestige requires that we pay America and the Treasury already has £25,000,000 to pay the amount due on October 1.

Li Considers Resumption Of Presidency Sacrifice Of His Personal Comfort

Presidential Mandates Are Issued To Rescind Order For Dissolution Of Old Parliament, To Abolish Tuchunate And Disband Troops And To Annul All Orders Since June 1917

BY JABIN HSU

Staff Correspondent the China Press

Peking, June 11.—"If I can be of any service to the people, I shall willingly sacrifice the personal comfort which I have been enjoying since June 1917 and come back once more to political life." Thus declared General Li Yuan-hung upon his arrival here this morning from Tientsin to resume his office as president as a result of the abrupt departure a week ago of Hsu Shih-chang from the Presidential Palace.

Thousands of prominent officials were present at the Peking-Mukden station to welcome the former President, who was accompanied by Mr. Kao En-hung, Minister of Communications. He arrived at 10 o'clock, was motored to his residence on Tung Chang Hutung and an hour later assumed the Presidential chair at Huai Jen Tang. The resignation en bloc of the Chow Tsze-chi Cabinet was accepted after the seals of the Chief Executive were restored to Gen. Li.

This evening three presidential mandates were issued, rescinding the order in June 1917 of the dissolution of the old Parliament, urging the immediate abolition of the Tuchunate and the disbanding of superfluous troops and the cancellation of all Presidential Mandates dated after June 1917.

NEW ERA SEEN

The arrival of General Li is hailed as marking the beginning of a new era of political emancipation of Young China and has eased off the little restlessness caused by the departure of Old Hsu, which left Peking without an executive head for a week. Although the Chow Tsze-chi Cabinet was appointed by Hsu to function as the highest executive body, it merely remained the custodian of the 16 Presidential Seals which caused such a flurry at the Kalee Hotel in 1917, while being conveyed to Feng Kuo-chang by General Ting Hwa.

While there is much speculation regarding the next Premier, it is ascertained that Dr. Wu Ting-fang, Minister of the Foreign Affairs of the Canton Administration, invited to organise a Cabinet. Before his arrival, Dr. W. W. Yen, Minister of Foreign Affairs will be made Acting Premier. But some negotiation will be necessary before the announcement could be made.

Dr. Wu, it is maintained, is still Premier from the legal standpoint, because he has never been relieved from the Premiership even after Li resigned the Presidency. His close connection with Mr. Sun would also facilitate matters in the readjustment with the Southwest. In the event of Dr. Wu refusing to accept the appointment, Mr. Sun Hung-yi, former Minister of Interior will be asked to head the new Cabinet. He is favored by the majority of the Parliamentarians, who are participating in the extraordinary session of Parliament at Canton. Sun is close to General Wu Pei-fu and has much to say in the affairs of the Kuomingtang.

TO SEND TELEGRAMS

General Li is expected to issue telegrams to the foreign nations announcing his restoration and to the provinces explaining the reason of his resumption of office. The old Parliament upon attaining a quorum is expected to fix the term of Li's office. The question of the period during which Acting President Feng Kuo-chang functioned and when Yuan Shih-kai carried out his 83-day monarchical coup as well as when Chang Hsun restored Hsuan Tung to the throne for seven days in 1917 is to be thoroughly debated by the solons.

The new President is also expected to issue a Presidential Mandate, ordering the cessation of hostilities throughout the country in order that differences between the various factions may be adjusted by conferences and parleys.

in Alexandre Dumas'

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"

12 REELS OF HUMOR — AND PATHOS — 12

A jealous and easily influenced King—a beautiful and misunderstood Queen—a foreign Duke who has boldly displayed his infatuation for the Queen. These form the "eternal triangle." A wily Prime Minister, Cardinal Richelieu, makes use of this to serve his own purposes. To keep the King and Queen apart he works to aggravate the King's jealousy and to impugn the Queen's honor.

Then out of the South appears a young Gascon. His fortune is in his blade, his sword arm and his adriot mind. His ambition is to become a King's musketeer. How he wins the friendship of the three best swordsmen in Paris, comes to the rescue of the Queen's honor, foils the Cardinal, wins the hand of a beautiful girl and becomes an officer in the Musketeers form the frame work of the story of "The Three Musketeers."

AMERICAN GOBS OFF ON TRIP TO SOOCHOW TODAY

Three Hundred Sailors From Destroyers To See Sights Of Ancient City

Three hundred sailors from the destroyers in port will journey to Soochow today on a sight-seeing tour under the direction of Arthur Ellis of the Navy Young Men's Christian Association. Special trams will take the gobs to the Shanghai North Station where coaches have been reserved on the train to Soochow.

The Temple of the 500 Gods, Tiger Hill Pagoda, various city temples and gardens, the Chinese Y. M. C. A. and Soochow University will be visited by the sailors, who will tour the city on donkeys.

The Navy "Y" has planned a busy time for the sailors who will be here but another week as the destroyers are scheduled to leave for Chefoo a week from today.

Tomorrow night the Ladies Overseas League will entertain the gobs with a candy pull at the Navy Y. M. C. A., to begin at 8 o'clock. The U. S. S. Rathburne string orchestra will furnish music.

On Friday night the big dance will be held at the Town Hall. Various organisations are co-operating. Two orchestras will play for the dancing, musicians having been engaged from the U. S. S. Huron and the U. S. S. Buffalo. Hundreds of ships' flags will be used in the decoration of the hall. Over 1,000 are expected to attend.

Mixed Court Will Hear Lawsuit Over Exchange Contracts

Suit on a series of exchange contracts and involving the sum of Tls. 6,849.31 filed by the Banque Belge Pour L'Etranger against Mr. A. Radomshelsky of 164 Bubbling Well Road was placed on the calendar for hearing in the Mixed Court yesterday.

In the suit the bank, through Teesdale, Godfrey and Newman, allege that they entered into a contract with Mr. A. V. White of White & Company, agent for Mr. Radomshelsky by which the defendant agreed to purchase and take delivery of 500,000 marks at a rate of 79 marks to one tael on October, 31, 1921. On that date they allege another agreement was made to carry on the contract until the end of December at a reduction in the rate of two marks per tael, and at the end of that period still another agreement agreeing to carry on the contract until the end of January at a rate of 73 marks per Tael. The defendant finally refused to accept delivery, they allege.

Mr. Radomshelsky asserts that no such agreements to carry the contracts over were ever made and that the plaintiff refused delivery of the marks on January 23, 1922.

Dragon Boat Notes Now Worry Peking

(China Mei Service)

Peking, June 10.—The question now before the Ministry of Finance is what to do about the $2,000,000 worth of notes issued to tide over the Dragon Boat Festival. The merchants will not accept them and the banks do not wish to. Even the posts, the Telegraph Administration, and the Government railways refuse to accept them such being the present state of affairs of securities issued by the government.

The merchants declare that if the government is not strong enough to compel its own organs to accept the notes why should the merchants be made the victims. In the meanwhile the bankers feel as if they had been left holding the bag and a meeting was held yesterday to protest. It is now urged that the Ministry of Finance suspend circulation of the notes until other matters are settled.

Socony Plant On Black Sea Fired

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, June 11.—An American destroyer, at present at the Black Sea port, Samsun, reports that the recent Greek bombardment of the port caused about 90 casualities amongst the population, and set on fire the Standard Oil Company's depot and part of the town but the munition depots three miles inland were not touched.

Spot and forward bar silver were unchanged in London and New York on Saturday, and the London-New York cross rate advanced to 450.

The official rates here today were unchanged from Saturday, and the market was steady to firm throughout the morning with very little variation in rates.

A small business in Sterling was done at 3-7 for June, and 3-6⅞ for July-August, but there were generally buyers rather than sellers at these quotations, the majority of sellers offering only 3-6⅞ for June, and 3-6¾ for July-August.

Gold Dollars were done at 80½ for June-July, and 80¼ for August-September.

There were buyers at these rates also, and sellers at all times throughout the morning at 80¼ for June, 80½ for July and 80 for August.

There were again a few bills offering today, but the market on the whole was very quiet.

There was nothing doing in the London or New York silver markets on Saturday, both of which are reported as steady.

Singapore Rubber Auctions

Singapore, May 24, 1922

During the past week both London and New York have been dull with nothing doing. This morning reports from London came in at 7⅛d., showing a drop of ⅛d. on the previous day's quotation, while New York reported 14 cents, which is ¾ cent down. There is said to be heavy liquidations in both markets owing to the apparent failure of the comtenplated restriction scheme in conjunction with the Dutch Indies. The local market has responded to the downward move to a certain extent, but values are still above the parity of the consuming markets.

At today's auction all values show a decline of ½ to 1 cent on the week. The demand was good owing to the covering of short sales, and sellers were willing to part with their holdings, which resulted in a quick sale.

606 tons were offered and 465 tons changed hands.

Awarded Singapore Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet sold at 24½ cents, which is 1 cent down; one lot fetched 24 cents only.

Sheet equal to Standard and good lots of F. A. Q. Sheets were in good demand; a few big lots of the former grade even realised 24½ cents.

Off Quality Sheet was shown a fair amount of interest.

Singapore Standard 1st Latex and Crepe equal to Standard were wanted, and fetched the above prices which show a decline of 1 to 1½ cents.

Off Color Latex was in good demand.

Britain To Open Immense Refinery

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 11.—The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, will open the Anglo-Persian Oil Company's new refinery at Llandarcy, near Swansea, on June 29. The refinery works, including a dock area and a model village, cover 650 acres and cost £3,000,000. It is estimated that the unloading of a 10,000 ton tanker of crude oil will take 12 hours, while loading of that quantity will be possible in 20 hours.

Tank storage is provided for 200,000 gallons, while the total storage capacity of the farm is 75,000,000. The present output of the refinery exceeds 15,000,000 gallons a month. The refinery, when fully operating, should be able to supply at least one-third of Great Britain's consumption of gasolene.

Republicans Ask $500,000 Fund

(China Press Service)

Washington, June 11.—Treasurer Fred W. Upham of the Republican National Committee discussed with President Harding plans to raise campaign funds of $500,000 to create public sentiment favorable to the return of the Republican Congress in November.

Upham said that no endeavor will be made to elect individuals but all energy will be devoted in getting before the people the real record of what has been done by a Republican Congress since 1920.

Textile Workers Accept Wage Cut

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 11.—The executives of the National Association of Textile Trade Unions, representing 250,000 workers, have unanimously decided to accept a new twelve-month wage agreement, recommended by the Industrial Council, which provides for the reduction of wages by 3-0 a week for men and 1-10 a week for women and youths.

"What Do We Want?"

Note: In response to the appeal of Mr. Hopkins Fang, a few days ago, for a discussion of the present situation in China, and for remedial suggestions from the pens of foreign educated Chinese, we have received, among others, the following:

BY H. T. WONG
(Shanghai Institute of Commerce)

NOW that the old Mandarin-President of the young Chinese Republic has vacated his seat, and the hitherto strong Mandarin combine is shattered to pieces, it must be realised that China is having one of those rare opportunities which, by the merciful will of God, sometimes knock at the door of a distressed and disappointed nation. Indeed, never has there been a more critical moment in the brief history of the Republic. While Northern Militarism seems to assume a deference for popular opinion, it is fitting that we, the lawful citizens of the Chinese Republic, should voice our sentiments and make known what we want.

What do we want? That is the real question of the hour. Do we want a government born of another faction of the old Mandarinate and composed of corrupt and corrupting ex-Mandarins? From the recent activity of the Kwangsi-ites and others it seems that the passing away of the Peking government is going to be nothing more than a change of deal. One clique has played its hand; and the next, under cover of the Li Yuan-hung figure-head, is trying to take its turn. Is this what we want? The answer must be emphatically NO!

Then, what do we want It is the law of the universe that if we do not know what we want, we shall have to take what is given us. We have remained passive for centuries. We must now wake up from our dreams and state what we want.

We want very little; and our want is easily met. We want Peace, nothing but Peace. But as long as the military chieftains and political robbers hold on to the game of what was in England called "king making," we can have no peace. We shall have one government after another headed by representatives of the various cliques; we shall have increased corruption and fighting for selfish ends; we shall have anything but peace.

There is only one way whereby we may obtain peace that will leave us undisturbed to develop our national wealth and industries, and that is a return of power to the people. A Republic has been defined as "a government of the people, by the people, for the people." Are we living up to this ideal? Far from it: we are robbed of our birthright to govern ourselves by the unauthorised seizure of the reins of government by a pact of unscrupulous exploiters. Government has never been for the people, but for the private purse. Until the people have a voice in the government, we shall not have peace.

In order to regain our lost power in the government, we must first dislodge our enemies from their stronghold—our national finance. In other words, we want a "squeeze"-proof system of finance whereby sinecures and parasites are forever excluded from the national coffers. When we come to think of the fact that in his brief tenure of office, the "Auditor" Tung Kang has been able to discover millions which have been leaking out for these eleven years, we shall understand that by the exercise of vigorous control, receipts from government revenues may be easily doubled, if not trebled. With these and half a world of buried mineral wealth, it is surprising that we should be worried by financial impoverishment.

But as long as the old Mandarinate or any part thereof remains in power, we shall never get out of debt. They are past masters in the art of sleight-of-hand; for under their clever manipulation, our loans and revenues disappear as quickly as they come in. To quote an age-old adage, if we want to do anything well, do it ourselves. Therefore, if we want our money to be used for the betterment of our face, we must be up and doing and insist upon the expenditure of our national resources to serve the best interest of our people.

All government revenues are nothing but funds which we place in trust for the purpose of meeting the expenses of our national household. We want our money spent on good roads and industrial development for the benefit of the people. If a government cannot and will not do as we wish, we have a perfect right as employers to demand the discharge of our employes. If Mandarins have proved themselves treacherous to the nation, we want them removed in the same way that we dismiss disloyal servants from our private families.

For years we have submitted to our public servants with such complete passivity that our personality has ceased to be felt. The politicians and military leaders consider us "mere babes" without the power of upholding ourselves. Let us therefore seize the present opportunity, before it is too late, to prove to the world that we are equal to the task of shaping our own destiny, and scatter to the wind the disgraceful criticism that we are "unfit for Republicanism." In other words, let us cry "hands off" to all enemies of the Republic including those intriguing parliamentarians who are now trying their best to follow which way the wind blows.

An emergency cabinet headed by the true representatives of 'New China" should be formed to carry on affairs of state until a people's parliament unfettered by the corrupt influence of money could be evolved. A genuine constitutional government should then be established and, if necessary, with the seat of the President removed from the present metropolis where the poisonous atmosphere tends to breed crooks sooner than regular Republicans.

Failing such a sweeping change, a Federal system along the line of the United States of America would be the only alternative to save our country from total destruction. If the Northern provinces prefer the grandeur of the Mandarins, whereas the Southern provinces want a Republic, it is far better that we "draw the line" and start over on a clean slate than be weighed down together by a fruitless struggle for the mere name of Union. But we firmly believe that at heart the Northern people no less than the Southern are all for the Republic, so that once the mailed fist over them is removed, whether by an act of God or by the tightening of the people's purse, they will unite with their brethren of the South to form a government that will mean business.

DAYBREAK

Stay, O sweet, and do not rise!
The light that shines comes from thine eyes;
The day breaks not; it is my heart,
Because that thou and I must part.

BITS FROM BOOKS

"There was a rough stone age and a smooth stone age and a bronze age, and many years afterwards, a cut-glass age. In the cut-glass, when young ladies had persuaded young men with long, curly moustaches to marry them, they sat down several months afterwards and wrote thank-you notes for all sorts of cut-glass presents—punch-bowls, finger-bowls, vases, etc. . . . and then the struggle for existence began. The bon-bon dish lost its little handle, and became a pin-tray upstairs; a promenading cat knocked the little bowl off the sideboard and the hired girl chipped the middle-sized one with the sugar-dish; then the wine-glasses succumbed to leg fractures, and even the dinner-glasses disappeared one by one like the ten little niggers, the last one ending up, scarred and maimed, as a toothbrush holder among other shabby genteels on the bathroom shelf."—Flappers and Philosophers, by F. Scott Fitzgerald.

Topics In Brief

The Russian revolution, according to Emma Goldman, "is a complete failure." That's what Americans told her when she was trying to duplicate it in the United States. —Seattle Times.

A psychiatrist warns us that a successful assault upon evolution would mean the downfall of reasoning. Still there are candidates who would get more votes if that happened.—Washington Post.

The Home of the Soul.

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

Ford Finds The People Unequal As His Cars

Striving To Make Them Equal Blocks Progress, Manufacturer Writes

Henry Ford, offering to the world the story of his life and a cross section of his mental processes, emphatically denies that all men are equal and seeks to prove the assertion by pointing to the little motor car of his devising. No two are alike, no two have the same habits, even if they do come out of the same mold, any more than human beings are alike.

"There can be no greater absurdity and no greater disservice to humanity in general," Mr. Ford writes, in collaboration with Samuel Crowther, in McClure's for May, "than to insist that all men are equal. Most certainly all men are not equal and any democratic conception which strives to make men equal only blocks progress.

"Men cannot be of equal service. The men of larger ability are less numerous than the men of smaller ability; it is possible for a mass of the smaller men to pull the larger ones down—but in so doing they pull themselves down. It is the larger men who give the leadership to the community and enable the smaller men to live with less effort.

LEVELING MAKES FOR WASTE

"The conception of democracy which means a leveling down of ability makes for waste. We build our cars absolutely interchangeable. All parts are as nearly alike as chemical analysis, the finest machinery and the finest workmanship can make them. No fitting of any kind is required and it would certainly seem that two Fords standing side by side, looking exactly alike and made so exactly alike that any part could be taken out of one and put into the other, would be alike. But they are not. They have different road habits."

Mr. Ford maintains that he is not a reformer. He thinks there is entirely too much reforming in the world and that too much attention is paid to reformers, of which there are two kinds, both nuisances to his mind. The trouble with reformers, he says, is that they want to smash things and have no use for facts. This leads him to an indictment of Soviet Russia:

"Nature has vetoed the whole Soviet Republic. For it sought to deny Nature. It denied, above all else, the right to the fruits of labor. In the United States a workman works eight hours a day; in Russia he works twelve or fourteen. In the United States if a workman wishes to lay off for a day or a week, and is able to afford it, there is nothing to prevent him. In Russia, under Sovietism, the workman goes to work whether he wants it or not.

"TALKED TO STARVATION"

"The freedom of the citizen has disappeared in the discipline of a prisonlike monotony in which all are treated alike. That is slavery. As soon as she began to run her factories by committees they went to rack and ruin; there was more debate than production. The fanatics talked the people into starvation. Bolshevism is now crying for the brains and experience which it yesterday treated so ruthlessly. All that 'reform' did to Russia was to block production."

The Detroit manufacturer warns against an element in the country who, he thinks, are attempting to do what the Bolshevists have done in Russia, and he mentions in the same breath a reformer other than the radical—the reactionary.

"He wants to go back to some previous condition," Mr. Ford writes, "not because it was the best condition but because he thinks he knows about that condition . . . One of the counsels of caution is to be very certain that we do not mistake a reactionary turn for a return of common sense."

Some of Mr. Ford's fundamental views about the importance of labor and the rights of labor are expressed in the article, and a sample comment is:

"There is no reason why a man who is willing to work should not be able to work and to receive the full value of his work. There is equally no reason why a man who can but will not work should not receive the full value of his services to the community. He should most certainly be permitted to take away from the community an equivalent of what he contributes to it. If he contributes nothing he should take away nothing. He should have the freedom of starvation. We are not getting anywhere when we insist that every man ought to have more than he deserves to have—just because some do get more than they deserve to have."

CAUSES OF DEPRESSION

Here is the way Mr. Ford philosophises about the causes of business depression:

"We were getting to a place where no one cared about costs or service. Orders came without effort. Whereas once it was the customer who favored the merchant by dealing with him, conditions changed until it was the merchant who favored the customer by selling to him. That is bad for business. The lack of necessity to hustle is bad for business. Business is never as healthy as when, like a chicken, it must do a certain amount of scratching for what it gets. Things were coming too easily. There was a let down of the principle that an honest relation ought to obtain between values and prices. The public no longer had to be 'catered to.' There was even a 'public be damned' attitude in many places. It was intensely bad for business. Some men called the abnormal condition 'prosperity.' It was not prosperity—it was just a heedless money chase. Money chasing is not business. . . .

"It is the function of business to produce for consumption and not for money or speculation. Producing for consumption implies that the equality of the article produced will be high and that the price will be low; that the article be one which serves the people and not merely the producer. . . . During the boom period the larger effort of production was to serve itself, and, hence, the moment the people woke up many producers went to smash. They said that they had entered into a 'period of depression.' Nothing of the kind. They were simply trying to pit nonsense against sense. Which is something that cannot successfully be done. Being greedy for money is the surest way not to get it, but when one serves for the sake of service—for the satisfaction of doing that which one believes to be right—than money abundantly will take care of itself. . . .

A WORLD OF MACHINERY

"Any scheme looking to abolishing money is only making affairs more complex, for we must have a measure. That our present system of money is a satisfactory basis for exchange is a matter of grave doubt. The gist of my objection to the present monetary system is that it tends to become a thing of

"There is no more sense in having extra weight in an article than there is in the cockade on the coachman's hat. I cannot imagine where the delusion that weight means strength comes from . . . . Fat men cannot run as fast as thin men but we build most of our vehicles as though dead weight fat increased speed. A deal of poverty grows out of the carriage of excess weight. Some day we shall discover how further to eliminate weight. . . . The farmer makes too complex an affair of his daily work. I believe that the average farmer puts to a really useful purpose only about 5 percent of the energy that he spends. . . . On my own farm at Dearborn we do everything by machinery. We have eliminated a great number of wastes but we have not as yet touched on real economy. We have left more undone than we have done."

turned out car No. 5,000,000 on May 31 1921, and that it is now in his museum along with the gasoline buggy that he began work on thirty years ago and which first ran satisfactorily in the spring of 1893.

Telescopes For Amateurs

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

"I would like to know how to make a telescope that is powerful enough to see the rings of Saturn plainly; that is, I would like to know what kind of eyepiece and object-glass to get for it.—L. A. K."

It does not require a very large telescope to see the rings of Saturn. A two-inch object-glass and an eye-piece magnifying 50 diameters should suffice—provided that both object-glass and eyepiece are of good quality, and properly mounted for use. With such an instrument, however, you would see but little detail, and the image of the planet would be small, though it might be sharp and distinct, and it would certainly be interesting.

If you can afford to get a three-inch object-glass together with at least two eyepieces, one magnifying, say, 50 times, and the other 100, you will get more satisfactory views. If the object-glass is first rate you may even employ a magnification of 150, or occasionally 200 diameters, when the air is very steady, and after you have learned by practice how to focus the image sharply, and how to interpret what you see with 200 magnification you would bring Saturn down to about 4,000,000 miles distant at the present time.

I infer that it is your purpose to make with your own hands the tube and stand for the mounting. The tube may be either of metal or of pasteboard composed of several thicknesses carefully consolidated, and the stand may consist of a firm wooden tripod. But I am not able, from any experience of my own, to advise you on this subject. I only know that persons possessing good mechanical ability have often constructed their own telescope tubes and mountings with success. Undoubtedly it is a good way to save expenses, for, while the principal real value is in the object-glass and the eyepieces, the mountings often cost far more than these essential parts.

The lenses (object-glass and eyepiece) you will have to buy unless you understand and are practised in the art of grinding lenses. Even this is occasionally done with considerable success by amateurs, but I do not advise you to undertake it. These are a number of professional telescope makers in the United States whose names and addresses you can find in business directories and from some of them you could, no doubt, obtain what you want.

But, if I were in your place—unless, you wish to make your telescope because of the interest that the work itself would have for you—I would try to find a second-hand instrument. Inquire of opticians; they sometimes know where such things are to be had. Several times I have known of most excellent glasses being acquired at auctions, or from second-hand dealers, at extremely low prices.

I will tell you what a friend of mine, who is a great student of the moon, did recently. He has a country place up in New England, and one day he passed an auction room in a nearby village, and entered out of simple curiosity. Presently a three-inch telescope was put up by the auctioneer. My friend already had all the telescopes he needed, but to an astronomer the sight of such an instrument on sale has the same effect that seeing a good-looking rod and reel put up at auction would probably have on a fly-fisherman.

The first bid for the telescope astonished my friend and led him to look closer. The bid was "fifty cents."

Then my friend, almost indignantly, took a hand in the game. Here was an instrument capable of showing more wonders in the heavens than Galileo, armed with the primitive ancestor of all telescopes, ever dreamed of, and somebody was bidding the price of a package of cigarettes for it!

"Three dollars," called my friend.

The auctioneer, smiling all over his face, kissed his hand to him. The people around stared at him with surprise. There followed silence, broken only by whispers, and the auctioneer could not coax out another bid. So my friend got the telescope for three dollars. He had paid three hundred for one no larger.

After the prize was secured a "knowing one" in the crowd nudged my friend and remarked in his ear:

"You didn't notice that there is a cracked glass."

"The tube alone is worth ten times the price," was the reply. "and I guess I can fix the crack."

It turned out that the crack in the glass did not affect the definition, and my friend says his three dollar bargain is one of the best telescopes he owns.

I know of two or three other similar instances though of no other quite so low a price. A telescope is like Aladdin's rusty, battered lamp—valuable only to those who know how to esteem it and to bring out its marvellous powers.

Ford Finds The People Unequal As His Cars

itself and to block instead of facilitate production."

Much of Mr. Ford's article is devoted to a denunciation of waste, which obviously he abhors and concerning which he offers numerous suggestions in the way of correction. It is about the worst bane of the United States, one gathers, in reading his comment. He plans to eliminate much of it through machinery, and he visions a queer world, a world of machinery—"there comes up the picture of a cold, metallic sort of world, in which great factories will drive away the trees, the flowers, the birds and the green fields. And that then we shall have a world composed of metal machines and human machines."

"We waste so much time and energy," he laments, "that we have little left over in which to enjoy ourselves, and machinery, money and goods are useful only as they set us free to live. . . . I do not consider the machines that bear my name simply as machines. If that was all there was to it I would do something else. I take them as concrete evidence of the working out of a theory of business—a theory that looks toward making this world a better place in which to live. The fact that the commercial success of the Ford Motor Company has been most unusual is important only because it serves to demonstrate in a way which no one can fail to understand, that the theory to date is right. Considered solely in this light, I can criticise the prevailing system of industry and the organisation of money and society from the standpoint of one who has not been beaten by them. . . ."

QUASHING COMPLEXITIES

If he were thinking selfishly, he says, he would ask for no change in one system, but he is thinking of service, and in that light he sees that the system encourages waste. It keeps men from getting the full return from service.

"My effort," he says, "is in the direction of simplicity. Nearly everything that we make is much more complex than it needs to be. Our clothing, our food, our household furnishings—all could be much simpler than they are, and at the same time be better looking. I do not mean that we should adopt freak styles. There is no necessity for that. Clothing need not be a bag with a hole cut in it. Real simplicity means that which gives the very best service and is the most convenient in use. The trouble with drastic reforms is that they always insist that a man be made over in order to use certain designated articles. I think that dress reform for women—which seems to mean ugly clothes—must always originate with plain women who want to make every one else look plain. That is not the right process. Start with an article that suits and then study to find some way of eliminating the entirely useless parts. This applies to everything—a shoe, a dress, a house, a piece of machinery, a railroad, a steamship, an airplane. As we cut out useless parts and simplify useful ones we also cut down the cost of making. . . ."

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.
FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. McCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. SMITH, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Soviet Opponents On Trial At Moscow

(Reuter's Service)

Frankfurt, June 11.—The great trial of Russian Social Revolutionaries on charges of conspiracy against the Soviet opened at Moscow today. Two thousand persons were in court, including most of the Soviet Commissars.

The foreign defending counsel included MM. Vandervelde, Rosenfeld and Liebknecht. The proceedings resolved themselves into a wrangle between the representatives of the Social Revolutionaries and the Communists. It is the first time for four years that there has been such a public discussion.

Sze Tells Canada's Premier There's No Desire To Emigrate

(China Press Service)

Ottawa, June 10.—Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister to the United States, who is visiting Ottawa to discuss the acute problem of Oriental immigration into British Columbia, was entertained at dinner yesterday evening in the Dominion House of Commons. The guests included the Premier, the Members of the Cabinet, diplomats and Members of Parliament.

Dr. Sze paid a tribute to the attitude upheld by Sir Robert Borden at the Washington Conference, which he described as broadminded and very helpful. He declared that the Chinese leaders did not desire to encourage the immigration of laborers as with the expansion of railways and the consequent development of mining and manufacturing full employment would be provided at home. Meanwhile, Dr. Sze continued, China valued the friendship and goodwill of her friends abroad too highly to risk losing it by permitting a few thousand laborers to immigrate from China if discord resulted.

Subsequently Dr. Sze lunched with Sir Robert and Lady Borden and was the guest of the Governor General at dinner at Government House.

Major True Fails To Win Sympathy

(China Press Service)

London, June 11.—The outcry against Major Ronald True, convicted of the murder of Gertrude Yates for which he was sentenced to death still continues.

Home Secretary Shortt said he believed the report of two doctors that True was insane.

Several newspapers charge strong influences obtained his reprieve because True is the illegitimate son of a titled woman.

San Francisco, June 11.—Police officials here say that Ronald True who claimed to be the stepson of a Scottish lord, served 15 months in Alameda county jail for forging postal orders in 1915. He was also a deserter from the Canadian Mounted Police and a conscienceless soldier of fortune.

Tung Kang Insists Upon Paying Foreign Loans

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 9.—"The receipts from the provinces due the central government must be paid directly to the Central Government if the present administration is to carry on. Every cent due on foreign loans must and will be paid," said Tung Kang in a special interview given to the Chung Mei service just prior to his planned departure for Tientsin to discuss this matter with Wu Pei-fu and Li Yuan-hung. He was accompanied by Kau En-hung, Minister of Communications.

The conference is to decide the major problem now confronting the country, namely whether the war lords will support the central government, enforcing its demands and compelling the provinces to pay in the money due the central government.

"This will be the first time I have ever met General Wu Pei-fu," said Minister Tung, "and I shall be interested in hearing his own views from him direct. In my estimation General Wu and General Feng Yu-hsiang are the ideal soldiers for the republic. I know Li Yuan-hung must feel likewise, and aside from all other matters he too appears principally interested in settling this vexatious question of who shall receive the revenues."

"Just how many employes have you discharged from the Ministry of Finance?" was asked.

"Everyone who has not a substantive appointment," answered the Minister. "It was expected about 1,000 would go but according to the number of employes who were attached to the Ministry when I came, more than 1,000 men have been relieved of their posts.

REINSTATEMENT TESTS

"All will be permitted reinstatement if they can pass the requirements, such as a civil service examination or show a university degree, or certain continuous service in the Ministry with recommendations extending over five years. I do not believe that more than 50 of this number will be able to come up to these requirements and in fact there are at present not more than 50 vacancies.

"I am very sorry for these discharged employes. Some of them are very good, but they must learn to shift for themselves and not to depend upon Government sinecures for a living. The budget of the republic does not call for such a large staff and there is not money to pay it nor is it needed. Therefore these men must turn to useful occupations.

"In the end I am sure they will be better off and I am sure they will thank me for their newly won independence and self reliance. I do not wish to take the rice bowl from any man, but they will not starve. People of this nature who are willing to work do not starve. As for their claims as to the illegality of my office and right to discharge I shall make no comment.

"I am a jurist myself and I do not care to answer this question at the present moment as it involves the entire present political scheme. But I will make this remark that if the mandate dismissing them was illegal, what about the mandate appointing them?"

It was nearing 4 o'clock and the Minister suddenly recollected that he had not had lunch. Accordingly the boy was sent out for a simple bowl of rice, a little chopped meat and some tea, and the Minister made a frugal repast. He sighed.

NO "KICK" IN HIS JOB

"I do not enjoy this job of Minister of Finance," he said, "I only accepted it because I felt that it was my duty to do all I could for my country. I have had little experience in this sort of thing. It is hard work. It is not like the life of a judge devoted to the law with regular hours. I have been much worried over my work and many times I have been unable to sleep.

"My recommendations for an amalgamation of the Banks of China and of Communications has been well received by the bankers and I think that it will be carried out as soon as the present political uncertainty is settled. A group of bankers from Shanghai have been conferring upon this matter.

"Recently however all of our energy has been devoted to the raising of sufficient money for the dragon boat festival settlements. It was hard going. We managed to raise $1,300,000, in cash. $2,000,000 was issued in notes. There has been some difficulty with these due to the present confusion, but we hope to have them valued at par.

"I am now going down to Paoting with the following program. First a reorganisation of all receipts of the Ministry of Finance from the provinces. The authority over these sources of revenue must be defined.

"Second: The various outstanding debts must be cleared up before now loans are contracted.

"As for the consortium, that should come after the rearrangement of our internal and external finances. If I am not to be saddled with a heavy debt or forfeit any rights, I see no objection to it.

"As for these discharged employes," he added before concluding, "I want to call attention to the fact that I have not replaced them by any of my personal friends. There has been absolute impartiality. The few men taken from the Ministry of Justice have been merely borrowed."

Tung Kang has effected in the ministry of finance alone a saving of about $140,000 a month. The former budget was $190,000 a month and Tung has now reduced this to about $50,000.

Pacific Fleet To Hold Puget Sound Practice In August

(China Press Service)

Washington, June 11.—The Department of the Navy announced that the Pacific Fleet will assemble at Puget Sound during July and August for maneuvers and visits to the various Sound ports.

Washington, June 11.—The Senate Appropriations Committee reported that it would recommend a naval appropriation bill of $294,235,000, an increase of $42,96b,000 over the corresponding House bill, but still $131,-261,000 less than Navy Department had asked. This bill will provide for 86,000 sailors and 19,500 marines.

The increases noted in the committee's report include $10,-000,000 for navy building; $6,-537,090 for new naval aircraft; $26,016,000 for naval pay; $2,-695,000 for engineering; $2,000,-000 for construction and repairs on vessels.

The report said that the army and navy aviation appropriations totalled $29,703,000 as compared with $66,424,000 for Great Britain, $44,600,000 for France and $18,722,000 for Japan.

Wuchang To Have New, Modern Mill

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, June 8.—The Chee Huan Cotton Mill has completed arrangements for the opening of its 30,000 spindle mill, which was projected by two progressive Chinese business-men three years ago during the Japanese boycott agitations. The mill, as conditions of operation improve, will employ 2,000 women, though at present only 1,000 are employed. Five hundred experienced mill hands will be transferred to the new Mill from the Wuchang Mill No. 1, by special arrangement.

With the opening of the Chee Huan Mill, Wuchang will have three great modern cotton mills owned by Chinese businessmen, all of which are situated near the Yangtsze River bank. The machinery carried by these mills is mostly from American and British factories.
